If you have a few hours to spare

Many volunteers get involved for reasons having to do with their personal growth. Many volunteers get involved for reasons having to do with their families. Many volunteers get involved to add to the type of activities in Smith's Clove Park.

Add your 2 cents... Always looking for new ideas. We meet with the Recreation Director once a month inside the Smith's Clove activity room over coffee. While the kids play, we brainstorm on ways to improve the programs we offer. Topic include old and new programs, special events and "getting the word out".

Teen Action Advisory Group Looking for a core group of local teen 12 -17 to form a Teen Action group to meet on a regular basis. This is your opportunity to plan and implement the types of activities you would like to see happen in the Park.

Sports

We recognize the importance to any community to have a place for youth leagues. The organized structure of "league play" affords us the ability to service the greatest majority of residents. Still, we strive to maintain access to a field or open space for an individual resident/s to come and enjoy the activity of their choice.
